From the Killing Fields to the Missions Field

PRAISE & PRAYER

In our last newsletter we shared about a group of people in the village of Chaab, an area in the Northwest of Cambodia, who had accepted Christ and were baptized in water. We have not been able to visit them in the last four months due to the pandemic travel restrictions. However, God opened the door for us to go visit them last week and our hearts were filled with joy to see that their faith continued to be strong. Not only that, through their changed lives and fervent witnessing, God added to their number.

Please continue to pray for them and the proclamation of the gospel in this remote area of Cambodia.

The crimson juice from a mixture of chewed betel nuts and tobacco ran down the corner of her mouth as she shared with me about a life of hardship and struggles. The woman (pictured below), along with other villagers waited to receive a bag of rice and a stack of canned fish from us. The pandemic has made an already difficult situation more dire for many Cambodians. Through your generosity, our friends and partners, we were able to help some two hundred families in our area.

As the woman recounted her life story

Waiting to receive the rice to me, the Scripture verse of Matthew 9:36 came to my mind. Those words of Scripture that say, "When He saw the crowds, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd..." echoed in my head. I told her that there is a God who loves her and died for her. With hands clasped together, she raised them to her face in a gesture of thanks and prayer, and said, "Please ask this God to help me, my life is very difficult."

In this difficult season, as we live with constraints and restrictions, more than ever, there is an opportunity to share His love to the broken world. Thank you for your generosity and commit-
